IV. Writing.

E) It is important that people choose a career when they are still quite young

It is important that people choose a career when they are still quite young. Because when you are still young, you have a more time for thinking. And you would be ready since childhood. It is really important. You can know a lot of informations about your profession. You can study hardly, because you know, your career demands it. You can change it you understand that is not your future. Choose a career when they are still young it makes them (more) stronger, better, (more) smarter. It is a big possibility to get big success in their future. I chose my profession when I was in 10 grade. And now I think I am ready. And I'm sure that I will get more success than I think. I absolutely advise them to choose a career when they are still quite young. But it is to important to enjoy your childhood. Don't forget it.

IV. Writing.

E) "It is important that people choose a career when they are still quite young"

Humans have two choices in their life. First - choose a career, second - choose a marrying. And I prefer the second. But why? you ask. So my answer to this question - enjoy in your life. Just do that. When you still quite young - you just a fire. Career will help you to be rich. You study for many years. And you must work to your self. So when you work and rich you can do anything that you want: travel around the world, buy a new house, new car and something else. Is that cool right? But this not just a given to you. You must work harder for this. first - you must study for many years. Invite your edukey. If you do all this - you in a right way. Just choice career. Choice yourself. And you when elderly - you say to thanks for past you. Because choose a career when you still quite young - is best choice ever.

Writing.

Nowadays, many people of young ages keep various types of life-styles. Nevertheless, the choice of career still a popular topic among the generation, and in my point view, that choosing a career is an important part of life.

Today, there are many opportunities to develop yourself in many spheres. The main thing for successful future is the career that people choose when they are young. (P) Mostly, people tend to make choices of career depending on their own interests, in time when they are adolescents. I find it a substantial type of choosing, as they will work with their favored things, and it is really hard to do the unmounted job, if you are not interestert in such. However, there is an important aspect: young people choose career following their interest, but do not give an attention if the job required a lot or will be demanded in the future. Thus, it seems to become a hard decision to choose your way on career, questioning themselves with such questions, such as "Will I get a job with it?"

IV Writing

From my perspectives, I strongly believe that - choosing a career in early age despite of your experiences is essential part.

Therefore, planning your future quite young age can be crucial key in the future. On the one hand, it can be small step to go to build career and being successful on (your) young generation personal lives. (choosing career in early age can be also caused (due) to solve problems easily and being opportunistic on the way to get success faster, then even though gaining more experience and be face to face new changes can develop personal leader characteristic. In the future, that qualities that developed in young age can be lead young generation being on the top and also be a highest reward in personal way. On the other hand, government need meet you to achieve international awards, therefore educational young can improve educational system in countries if they learn and explore their profession deeply. Nowadays, the young generation full of motivation, and their know their potential and can improve that in a various way. Going to your dream and goal despite of discomfort and fall, and show strong results it's the key word today's young generation, they full of energy and also can do everything that they want especially it's about personal growth.

A student of 10th grade named Adel shared that she's excited to be studying in the new school. Her friend Zhonor who lives near the school, also expressed her anticipation to finally be studying in the school, as she got tired of going to somewhere else that's way far away from her house.

And what other students think of studying somewhere outside of their school?

Well, 14th grader named Samal shared that he's absolutely comfortable being educated in the new location as it is, apparently, ~~more~~ quieter and more private than the last one, and lessons feel more peaceful. In fact he also mentioned that he's content with how obstacles turned out as now he lives 3 minutes away from the "school".

Another student, Sanys, complained about the lighting of the new spot. According to her, it's too bright and also cold, reminding her of her dad's office.

And what about the team that is doing the renovation? Well, they're not playing around at all. They have promised to submit the complete school by the New Year, and are determined to keep their promise, since being late would mean they have to pay the whole thing with their own budgets.

As for now, as the month December approached, everyone is content, being in the spirit of the upcoming New Year's eve. They have to come to a deal that the school will be ready for use again starting from January. Right now everybody is excited about the celebration of the New Year and nobody has time to be miserable about having to walk to "school" that's too far.

Thank you so much for reading this till the end. We wish that everybody has a nice holiday break and gets celebrate the New Year with their loved ones.

C) My letter

Hello! I see you in English-language magazine.

I'm so like your interview. First one you so tolerant, clever and clear. In your interview I want asked one thing.

in your course words so difficult, a most people say

"you are not talented" but I don't found his (oppin) opinion.

I'm found you and I know you so talented person.

Your interview - my motivation. Thank you!

Writing.

E. "It is important that people choose a career when they are still quite young."

It is believed that it will be good if individuals choose their career when they are quite young. While some people argue that a choice made earlier may help people do and a job earlier, in my opinion, if individuals choose a career too early, they may know what to do and what to achieve in the future.

First of all, being aware of a future way, people can plan more a plan carefully to their future. Before making a plan for a future path is considered quite significant, because success requires a careful preparation and a good skills. For instance, a person will apply for a university in the following year, and one should prepare for the exams. Therefore, children can achieve a result more quickly than adults, and can enhance their skills. Thus, choosing a career path is really important for every individual.

Secondly, being a good and well-skilled worker requires good skills. If one has good skills in its profession, it is possible to achieve goals more quickly than others. For example, for her working as a teacher, a good communication skills, as well as creativity are needed, and head-teachers may choose a person who is more creative and have good communication skills, as a student usually tend to choose a good teacher. So, it is good for every workplace. As a result, people should choose a career in earlier period, for example at secondary or high school.

In conclusion, if people choose their career earlier, it will give them more opportunities in application for a job.

In the 21st century, there is a great number of talented people. Yet, more of them are adolescents, who have missions in their lives, and teenagers with "sparkles" in their eye.

On the one hand, adults and elderly people can have goals. Yet, more of them may be reached their the main mission, or lost sparkles in the eye. These sparkles can be turned off by other people, especially by parents who think that their children are able to reach the goals and change the world with career.

However, nowadays, a great number of parents support their children, the young generation; there is no pressure as it was. Everybody has the freedom of voice, even they are able to lift voices of others. There is no board now. The board is only in our head.

In conclusion, in order to change the world, individuals, especially young people have to get out of their own comfort zone and choose career. However, it is not only for the world but for their future. As it was mentioned, everybody has the mission and the desire to reach the goals. These goals can be reached only if young people choose themselves and career.

Both to be interviewer and being interviewed is nice. Personally, I don't see myself as a interviewer sitting and asking various types of questions. It is privilege to be famous and being asked about your life or career. But, have you thought about interviewer? For me, this profession seems fun. And the reason is because every day you meet completely different people that don't have anything<sup>in</sup> common. For instance, it can be popular actress as Dargha Badygova, whose personal life is a big noise for among people. Or even football player like Temirlan Anarbeker who showed amazing performance in the match this year.

If I had chance to do this job, I would like to interview someone who changed the world to a better place. For me, it is Lyazzat Asanova. The bravest young girl who sacrificed herself. The "Wetgasan" story which happened in 1976, had big influence for our country to be free. Without doubt, to have anything, you have to give something. So many young students who joined that day didn't even realise what it costs. Specifically, Lyazzat's story is mysterious. Her case haven't got full details till today. I want to know how she exactly felt that day and if she had chance to choose, would she join again? We all know the answer would be "yes" because she is hero. However, her personal experience would be interesting to know. Also, her advice to a young generation would help us to develop our country and keep the independence.

Writing

I choose the last one (E)
It is important that people choose a career when they are still quite young.

It is vital when carrier has been choosen by 14-15 years old generation when they are still young and have a lot of minds about their future job. I also agree with this statement, because it provide better choose for future and can be profitable for the economic of country.

Firstly, keep in mind that job of further future is significant, due to it will help to get away doubts and do desicion until graduation about sphere where they are really want to work.
Additionally, this provide safest live. Teenagers start thinking about proffession since childhood.
They used to be choose common jobs such as the teacher, an astronaut and etc. But after beginning extra subjects in school programmes, they get more knowledge about other jobs. Here children can notice ~~they~~ their hard sides and weak sides, which provide easiest choose for their employment.

Secondly, when being career in priority for teenagers, provide better economy for future. Currently, in ~~the~~ recent decades, there are 5% of nation is ZET. ZET is unemployed residents. And recent research about this provide the fact that USA's ~~is~~ economy better than Russia, because of the level of employment. Here is the evidence, when teenagers focused more on their career is have more profit for ~~pe~~ identity and also for country.

To sum up, providing information about career since adolescence have various better sides.)
